

God; Father, Son and Spirit

Through your love dwelling within us

May we be always be willing to share the hope that lifts our hearts

May we always be generous in our service of others, especially those who are most in need

May we always seek the wisdom that comes from above and resides within

May we always have the courage to stand up for what is right

May we always have the humility to ask for pardon

May we always trust that our efforts for good are never in vain

And may we always draw confidence from your joy in us. AMEN
